Amendments to the Specification:

Please replace the paragraph beginning at page 2, line 4 with the following rewritten paragraph:

In a preferred embodiment, the driving means for mirroring a display section having  $k$  columns indexed from 0 to  $m$  comprise means for interchanging the contents of picture elements  $(i, j)$  and the contents of picture elements  $(i, k - m - j)$ ,  $i$  being a row number of the display driving the display section. This represents mirroring with respect to a column direction. In a similar way mirroring with respect to a row direction is possible.
